X. FISCAL OFFICER'S REPORT

Fiscal Officer Report
Ross A. Cockfield, Fiscal Officer
February 2017
Prepared March 2017

February financial reports have been distributed. Our expenditures for the first two months would be represented by a target expenditure level of 16.5% (2/12 of the year). Thru two months most of our expenditures are within budget. Please keep in mind that the YTD% is based on what's remaining from our appropriated amount and that if the Board approves our Permanent appropriations these percentages will readjust based on the new appropriations. A more accurate picture of our position will be with next month's financials.

The Board has been presented with our Permanent Appropriations for approval. This budget takes into account the filling of all vacant positions, salary adjustments to some existing positions, and a 2% cost of living increase. In addition, budgeted upgrades to the projector in the Greg Reese Performing Arts Center and new projectors for the lower auditorium and computer lab are included as well as computer equipment for the Children's area. Facilities improvements are also budgeted to include replacement of all lighting to LED bulbs in the main reading areas and lighting and carpet for the Debra Ann Wing. It is anticipated that with the passage of this budget both operations and facilities will be on solid ground.

The Board is also presented with our Tax Budget for 2018 for approval. This budget must be presented to the East Cleveland School Board for approval
(since they are our taxing authority) who then submits it to the County Budget Commission. It must be approved by the school board by May 31st and submitted to the County by July 15th. Information from this budget is used to form our Certificate of Estimated Resources for 2018.

In this month’s Library Services Committee meeting I presented Ms. Turner with our project budget template which I indicated was 90-95% complete. Each event that the Library advertises falls within one of the five broad program areas that the budget is designed to track. The project budget establishes unit costs of service for each of the Library’s broad program service areas; Icabad Flewellen, Adult Services, Children’s Services, GLR Auditorium, Lower Auditorium which comprise the Arts and Culture Program, and Teen Services. All the costs/expense that the Library incurs flows into and supports these program areas as either direct or indirect costs. One of the major challenges with this type of budgeting is that our line item budget doesn’t conveniently overlay the programs we’re trying to measure. For example a portion of the time spent by our IT staff is spent directly assisting with Adult Services as part of our computer instruction and part of their time is as a support service as part of our IT network. I’m in the process of designing a form to capture event costs which will be matched against a monthly budget for each program. I’ll also be using numbers from our monthly circulation statistics to develop such costs as cost per patron served or costs per book circulated etc. More complete information will be presented next month.

Ms. Synor stated that it is very important for the Trustees to read over the financial reports.

Ms. Turner commends the Fiscal Officer for his work.
